

MICROBIOLOGY SEMINAR

THIS SEMINAR WILL DISCUSS RECENT DEVELOPMENTS IN ASSESSMENT AND MANAGEMENT OF INFECTION, CONSIDER SOME OF THE MORE DIFFICULT DIAGNOSTIC SITUATIONS AND REVIEW THE FACTS FROM FICTION ABOUT OUR GREAT FEAR OF A WORLDWIDE PANDEMIC.

Programme

08.30-09:00 REGISTRATION

09:00-13.20 MORNING SESSION

09.00-09.50 - Causes, Diagnosis and Management of Myocarditis
Professor Sanjay Sharma, St George's University of London

09.50-10.40 - Diagnosing Neurological Infections in the Intensive Care Patient Dr Mark Ellul, Clinical Research Fellow, Institute of Infection and Global Health, Liverpool

10.40-10.55 - QUESTIONS

10.55 - TEA/COFFEE BREAK

11.25-12.15 - Tuberculosis in the Intensive Care Patient Dr Cecelia O'Kane, Clinical Senior Lecturer, Queen's University, Belfast

12.15-13.05 - Fungal Infections in Intensive Care Dr Tihana Bicanic, Reader and Honorary Consultant in Infectious Diseases, St George's University of London

13.05-13.20 - QUESTIONS

13.20 - LUNCH

14.00 - AFTERNOON SESSION

14.10-15.00 - Antibiotic Resistance Professor Anthony Coates, Professor of Microbiology, St George's University of London

15.00-15.50 - Antibiotic Dosing in Critically Ill Patients Dr Barbara Philips, Reader in ICM, Brighton and Sussex Medical School

15.50-16.10 - QUESTIONS

16.10 CLOSE OF DAY

Please note we reserve the right to change the programme or speakers at any point.

1

Date and location

Monday, 10th September 2018
9.00 am-16.10 pm
35 Red Lion Square, London

2

Participants

Aimed at anyone who works in intensive care

3

Fee and registration

Consultant Members: £145
Consultant Non-Members: £195
Trainee/Nurse/AHP Members: £75
Trainee/Nurse/AHP Non-Members: £85

Register online via www.ics.ac.uk